CZ's $4.5 Million Plant Begins Production Today

The Canadian pulp and paper industry's most advanced corrugated container manufacturing plant, Crown Zellerbach's $4.5 million operation in the Kelowna industrial park, started commercial production at 8 a.m. today.

"Considering the complexity of the new equipment, it was a smooth start-up, the result of the skill and teamwork of the plant's 34 employees," commented Lyall A. Dagg, general manager of the company's paper products division, here with O. C. Cook, vice-president, Pulp and Paper Sales and Marketing, from Vancouver to observe the first production run.

Mr. Dagg said "splendid co-operation" had been received from the three levels of government throughout all phases of the project, built under the federal government's areas incentive program.

The plant's corrugator—about a city block long and 15 feet wide—is making corrugated board at the rate of 400 feet per minute. Initial production will be for apple shipping containers.

The plant is the only corrugated container plant between Vancouver and Calgary. It is designed to produce a wide range of containers for industrial and agriculture customers in the Okanagan and Kootenay regions.

In addition to the newest manufacturing equipment available to the industry, the plant also has several new air ment throughout all phases of the project, built under the federal government's areas incentive program.

and water quality protection features.

Housed in a separate building near the main plant is a B.C. Research-designed effluent treatment and dispersal system that handles about 9,000 gallons of process water per day. The water is from the cleanup of inks and glues. The treated water is dispersed into the soil through a three-acre drain tile area on the plant grounds.

Mr. Dagg said the municipal and provincial government approved system, that cost in excess of $200,000, was the result of extensive scientific studies. The project combined the efforts of scientists of Crown Zellerbach's own engineering staff, the company's engineering consultants and B.C. Research, he said.

B.C. Research, he explained, is a Vancouver-based, independent organization involved in industrial research.

"We have been told by many scientists there are few industrial establishments in the world that have the sophisticated effluent treatment system employed at this operation," Mr. Dagg said.

Sanitary wastes will be treated in a conventional septic tank installation, with the treated water being channeled into a separate drain field.

Corrugated board trimmings are collected and baled for shipment to the B.C. coast for re-pulping. The procedure eliminates waste incineration.

Kraft paper from the company's Elk Falls pulp and paper mill on Vancouver Island is used as the corrugated medium.

Manson Motion Denied

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The judge in the Sharon Tate murder trial ruled today that Charles M. Manson is not being harassed in county jail and denied his motion for a "cease and desist" order.

"I've considered all of the evidence and I've personally inspected the facilities," said Superior Court Judge Charles H. Olcott. "I find no evidence of any harassment and find that procedures used by the sheriff are reasonable."

Manson, 35, head of a hippie-type clan on trial with three girl disciples in the 1969 murder case, had complained that he had been placed in solitary confinement, had been subjected to frequent skin searches, wasn't receiving mail and had at times been denied pencils and papers.

His main complaint was that he was compelled to interview visitors through a screen which hampered vision and hearing.

Manson and the women are on trial for the murders of Miss Tate, an actress, and six other persons Aug. 9-10, 1969.

Nun Denies She Was Forced To Enter Order In Europe

ROME (Reuters) — Sister Mary Maureen, 23-year-old Indian nun living at a convent in Rome, said today she was not forced to come to Europe to become a nun but did so of her own free will.

A London Sunday newspaper says there has been trafficking in young Indian girls from Kerala state, with European convents sending large sums of money for recruits.

A Vatican spokesman denied Sunday night the "insinuations" in the newspaper about a trade in Indian girls, but admitted that some disadvantages had arisen over the years in the system of helping girls come to Europe to enter religious orders.

Church authorities have ordered the system of assistance to be stopped and have opened an inquiry into the charges.

In an interview in a Rome newspaper today, Sister Mary Maureen, who is at the St. Peter Claver Convent in Rome, said she was one of six Indian girls who came to Italy five years ago. Four are still at the convent and two have gone to other religious institutes.

"They did not carry us away by force nor did they do it for gain," the young nun said.

At another convent near Tivoli, just outside Rome, Sister Monica Pienza, secretary-general of the Order of Sister of the Divine Providence, described the newspaper report as "rubbish."

No Judgment To Be Passed Against Captive Officials

MONTEVIDEO (AP) — United States agronomist Claude L. Fly and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide, both held captive by Tupamaro guerrillas, are well and "no judgment will be passed against them" for the time being, a communication from the Uruguayan guerrillas said today.

Police said the note was authentic. The first word from the guerrillas in two weeks, the communique was addressed to a newspaper and it was left at a store three blocks from the paper's office.

The note repeated the threat that the two kidnapped foreigners will be killed if their hiding place is discovered by police and troops combing the capital.

Meanwhile, diplomatic sources reported that Brazil and Uruguay are discussing terms

MAY TALK SECRETLY

The diplomats also reported the imminent arrival of a high-ranking Brazilian military officer with instructions to undertake secret negotiations with the guerrillas. Ambassador Luis Bastian Pinto of Brazil met twice with Foreign Minister George Terraño of Uruguay during the weekend.

There was no word whether the bargaining would include an offer for the 65-year-old Fly, who was kidnapped Aug. 7, a week after Dias Gomide was seized.

Bitterness Seen In Postal Talks

Advice To N.W.T. From Michener

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP) — Gov.-Gen. Roland Michener, speaking at a banquet Sunday night, summed up his 10-day tour of the Western Arctic as "delightful and illuminating."

Once again, as he has several times during speeches on the tour, the Governor-General stressed the need to protect the environment while developing the economy.

"The western northland has become an accessible and an integral part of our country and its economy."

He warned that this change is not without its hazards. Northerners must learn the lesson of the South—"that for nature to be used for the common good it must be carefully protected."

"It will be your good fortune to benefit from the errors made by more developed communities."

Conservation has been the theme of the tour. But during the speech the Governor-General referred briefly to Canada's sovereignty in the North, main theme of his Eastern Arctic tour last year.

"I have been interested to read of some American expeditions that have been floating around on an ice floe in what is probably our sea."

He said perhaps the only way to solve the problem would be to melt the floes.

The Governor-General and Mrs. Michener have spent the last 10 days visiting settlements and communities in both the Yukon and western Northwest Territories.

Their visit has been a friendly and an informal one during which the vice-regal couple have had opportunities to meet northerners and chat with them over some of their problems.

"I have learned a great deal," he said, referring to the increased awareness of northern problems among southern Canadians.

"Today, we Canadians look to the North to affirm our identity and to fulfill our destiny."

This morning the Governor-General was to leave for Regina by Canadian Forces jet. He and his wife will open a new arts centre in Regina before proceeding to Ottawa Tuesday.

Mediator's Report Draws Blast From Union Official

OTTAWA (CP) — Postal mediator Thomas O'Connor said today no statements will be made during negotiations between postal union officials and government representatives, as the first strains of bitterness appeared to surface in the latest four-day round of talks.

Mr. O'Connor, a Toronto labor relations specialist, made the statement to reporters minutes after a union spokesman said he was disturbed by comments made by the mediator during the weekend.

The spokesman said any impression of progress created by Mr. O'Connor was an "illusion."

The talks were going "nowhere fast," the union spokesman said.

Mr. O'Connor said in an interview Sunday one "contentious issue" had already been settled and a second was near settlement. He said he was hopeful a settlement could be reached before the end of the week.

Some observers say leaders of the 27,000-member Council of Postal Unions fear that indications of progress in the mediation effort will take the steam out of the membership desire to continue staging rotating strikes.

The union spokesman said today he feels Mr. O'Connor's weekend statements indicate one of two things: Either the mediator wished to create an atmosphere of progress to stimulate agreement or he was "a government stooge."

"I favor the latter," the spokesman said.

However, later the spokesman emphasized that he was expressing a personal view, not necessarily shared by the union or its bargaining committee.

Mr. O'Connor said during the weekend he has set Sunday as his personal deadline in the mediation attempt. Previous commitments would make it extremely difficult for him to continue beyond that date, he said.

Prime Minister Trudeau told reporters Friday he will allow Mr. O'Connor a week to 10 days to settle the dispute.

Mr. O'Connor is the second mediator appointed in the dispute. He succeeded A. W. R. Carrothers, president of the University of Calgary, who quit after four days of meetings in June.

The rotating strikes have been increasing in intensity during the last week, with more than half the postal workers off the job at times and over a million family allowance cheques undelivered.

Old age pension cheques go in the mail the end of this week and unless a settlement is reached, some of these may be delayed as well.

OTTAWA (CP) — At least 6,000 postal workers in the Montreal and Ottawa areas failed to show up for work today.

The post office department said 35 offices in the Montreal area, including the city itself, are closed.

Another 15 are closed in the Ottawa area, including Pembroke, Cornwall, Kingston, Peterborough and Trenton.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Postal workers in Vancouver and surrounding areas were back at their jobs today following last week's 48-hour rotating strike.

A post office official in Vancouver said it will take until about Thursday to clear up the backlog of mail caused by the latest strike, provided there are no more work stoppages this week.

Arabs And Lebanese Clash 20 Miles South Of Beirut

BEIRUT (AP) — Palestinian Arab guerrillas and Lebanese leftists who support Egyptian President Nasser traded gun shots in the streets of Sidon, 20 miles south of Beirut, for several hours today. One man was killed and six were wounded, Lebanese security officials said.

The guerrillas, members of the Syrian-backed Al Salka group, kidnapped the leader of the Nasserites, parliamentary Deputy Maarouf Saad, and 11 members of his group and were holding them in a refugee camp near the city.

Security officials said the dead man, whom they did not identify, was a Lebanese and were five of the six wounded. Three were reported in serious condition.

The trouble started early today when unknown persons threw explosives at the Salka office, wrecking it. No casualties were reported, but a short time later Salka guerrillas and the Nasserites were shooting at each other.

Relations have been tense in recent weeks in Sidon between supporters of Gamal Abdel Nasser and the Palestinian guerrillas, both of which have large numbers in the city.

The Nasserites, led by Deputy Maarouf Saad, support the Egyptian leader's acceptance of the U.S. peace plan, while the guerrillas oppose it.

There was no word on whether the authorities were intervening in the fighting. The government is believed anxious to avoid trouble with the guerrillas until President-elect Suleiman Frangieh takes office Sept. 23.

Extend Search For Missing Jet Pilot

BAGOTVILLE, Que. (CP) — Canadian Forces today intensified the ground and air search for Capt. Denis Lambert, 30, missing since Friday when his CF-5 jet crashed in flight with another CF-5.

Capt. Lambert of Arvida, Que., and Lieut. Marc Fortier of Quebec City, both flying routine training missions, were forced to eject from their supersonic jets after the collision. Their parachutes were spotted by a third CF-5 in the area.

An F-21 helicopter taking part in the search Saturday crashed at a low level, injuring one of seven aboard, Cpl. Roland Raymond Servos, 37, of St. Catharines, Ont., suffered a fractured shoulder, but is reported in excellent condition in hospital.

Rumor IWA Leader Resigned From Negotiating Committee

VANCOUVER (CP) — A meeting of the Vancouver local of the International Woodworkers of America Sunday to discuss the Nemetz recommendations for settling the seven-month coast forest industry dispute showed "considerable dissatisfaction," said local president Syd Thompson.

He said the men were especially critical of fringe benefit recommendations in the report by Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz of the B.C. court of appeals.

"There was also some discussion of the holding up of the vote on the report, but they generally agreed with the decision of the negotiating committee to hold up the vote until after the meeting with (labor minister Leslie) Peterson," he said.

Mr. Nemetz's report called for a 60-cent hourly wage increase over two years on the base rate of $3.12, or about a nine per cent increase each year.

Mr. Peterson will attempt this week to bring negotiators of both sides in the dispute, the IWA's 28,000 members and the 116 companies in Forest Industrial Relations, together to hammer out a solution.

Youth Charged With Murder

HOPE, B.C. (CP) — Police at Hope, 80 miles east of Vancouver, laid a charge of non-capital murder today against a juvenile boy following the death Sunday of a 14-year-old girl.

Karen Marie Fex of Silver Creek, near Hope, was found badly beaten early Sunday on the bank of the Fraser River about 50 feet below the Trans-Canada Highway in Hope. She died a few hours later in hospital.

Police say the boy is scheduled to appear in juvenile court later today in Hope.

Man, Woman Killed By Train

PENTICTON — Two Penticton residents, both believed to be Indians, were killed when struck by a train in Penticton Sunday night.

Ron Lessard and an unidentified woman were fatally injured when hit by a train and a third man, also unidentified, is being held by Penticton RCMP as a witness to the mishap.

$83,192 MILLION GNP For 3 Months Up Slightly

OTTAWA (CP) — The gross national product ran at an annual rate of $83,192 million in April, May and June this year, up a narrow six-tenths of one per cent from the first quarter's $82,660 million, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

In the second quarter of last year, the GNP—the total value of all goods and services produced by Canada, measured at the current purchasing power of the dollar—ran at $77,480 million, and for the year 1969 as a whole it was $78,537 million.

The bureau said the second quarter of this year was marked by widespread easing of inflationary pressure, and a sharp increase in unemployment.

While the increase for the second quarter was six-tenths of one per cent, compared with 2.2 per cent in the first quarter, prices rose in the second quarter by five-tenths, or one-half of one per cent compared with a one-per-cent rise in the first quarter of the year.

This was a marked slow-down in price inflation from the increase of 1.6 per cent which occurred in the last three months of 1969.

STANDS STILL. Discounting the rise in prices, the gross national product for the second quarter in real or uninfated terms was virtually stagnant, rising only two-tenths of one per cent.

DBS said the second-quarter slow-down appeared to be an abrupt change, coming in the wake of the larger increase in the first quarter. But the economy's strength in January, February and March reflected an unusual surge of exports to overseas countries resulting from a number of temporary factors.

This tended to obscure weaknesses that were developing in the first quarter in consumer expenditure and investment spending. These weaknesses continued in the second quarter when there was no further significant boost in exports.

The $83,192 million gross national product for the second quarter this year represented a per capita output of $3,913 compared with $3,888 in the first quarter and $3,700 in the second quarter of last year.

In terms of the 1961 dollar, used as a basis for comparing uninfated GNP, the gross national product in the second quarter of this year was running at $62,664 million, compared with $62,528 million in the first quarter and $60,472 million in the second quarter of last year.

On a per-capita basis, the GNP in the latest three-month period was $2,947 in 1961 dollars, compared with $2,941 in the first quarter of 1970 and $2,888 in the second quarter of last year.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

Find Global Solutions — Thant

Mankind must find global solutions to global problems "or perish—if not with the bang of a nuclear holocaust, then with the whimper of a species and a civilization which ran out of air, water, resources and food," United Nations Secretary-General U Thant said Sunday. In a speech opening the biennial congress of the World Association of World Federalists, the secretary-general renewed his call for the creation "of a global authority to deal with the problems of the environment—with the life-support system of our spaceship earth, now in serious jeopardy."

Newsweek says Dean Acheson, President Harry S. Truman's secretary of state, unsuccessfully tried to dissuade the late President John F. Kennedy from backing the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba. And Acheson also told Kennedy not to name Senator J. William Fulbright secretary of state, says the magazine. Acheson's advice, Newsweek says, is contained in his taped reminiscences for the John F. Kennedy Library, which will be built in Cambridge, Mass.

North Korea says that the United States is intensifying its efforts to provoke a new war against North Korea. The accusation was contained in a North Korean foreign ministry statement issued Sunday and carried today by the Korean Central news agency. The statement described Vice-President Spiro T. Agnew's visit to South Korea as a dangerous war junket designed to step up preparations for and stir up a new war in Korea.

Richard Cardinal Cushing, who observes his 75th birthday today, says: "I know nothing about retirement." Earlier he had said he would retire on his 75th birthday but now he says, "Retirement is up to Rome. I have no say about it. Some submit resignations but I have not given it any thought." He said Sunday in a telephone interview that he was ailing, but he declined to disclose the nature of his illness.

All art is born from garbage or destruction, communications expert Marshall McLuhan told the International Association of Art Critics in Ottawa Sunday. The University of Toronto professor, scheduled to speak on Space in Art, instead chose the topic Where Its Art or the Garbage Apocalypse.

The outbreak of cholera in the southern Russian city of Astrakhan will be stamped out in the near future, a woman scientist said today in the Communist party newspaper Pravda. Academician E. Ermolayeva also advised Pravda readers that fruit and vegetables from the cholera-hit city are not dangerous if properly washed because virus could not survive for more than two days on the surface of food.

Thirteen years after federal troops desegregated Little Rock Central High School, a black man—Reginald Jeffery, Hampton—is running for governor of Arkansas. "There is no question that I could be governor of Arkansas and would be elected if I were white," says Hampton. The 34-year-old African Methodist Episcopal minister is seeking the Republican nomination in the primary Tuesday against three whites, including Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who wants a third two-year term. Hampton's chances are considered slim.

Field workers led by Cesar Chavez's United Farm Workers Organizing Committee have voted to strike today against 27 of the 60 major vegetable growers in the fertile Salinas Valley of Central California. Demanding that UFWOC be recognized as the valid union representative, delegates from about 3,000 field workers, mostly Mexican-Americans, voted at a meeting Sunday to walk off their jobs in a jurisdictional dispute.

Race relations in Britain took a turn for the worse because a West Indian restaurant owner got tired of police searching his place for drugs. Frank Critchlow's anger led to a recent demonstration by more than 100 West Indians through a north London slum. It ended in injuries for 17 police and the arrest of 19 persons.

Bishop James E. Walsh arrived in Rome today but his first reunion in 22 years with two of his sisters was delayed until later in the day while he rested up from his plane trip from Hong Kong. The 79-year-old missionary who was freed

July 10 after 12 years in a Communist Chinese prison was reported tired but in "quite good" condition after his long flight from the Far East.

Israel Sunday named Foreign Minister Abba Eban as its delegate to the informal Middle East peace talks to be conducted under Gunnar V. Jarring, special United Nations envoy. The Israeli government at a six-hour cabinet meeting in Jerusalem appointed its UN ambassador, Yosef Tekoa, as Eban's alternate.

Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr., stricken with pneumonia, was listed in satisfactory condition in a Las Vegas hospital Sunday. A spokesman for Sunrise Hospital said the singer-actor-dancer was taken there in an ambulance Saturday suffering from an upper respiratory infection. He was given oxygen and put under observation, the spokesman said. Davis was said to be suffering the "consequences of exhaustion."

A dead soldier rejected by a cemetery because he is black was given military and religious honors at an army Sunday, then carried to a mortuary "because he doesn't have six feet of U.S. ground on which to lay his head." Willis Edwards, a bearded black student from Los Angeles who delivered the eulogy, also compared the dead soldier, Spec. Pentecost Eugene Williams, 20, to "a man without a country." White army officers helping conduct services for Williams expressed anger at the refusal of Hillcrest Memorial Gardens of Fort Pierce, Fla., to allow the burial in a grave donated to the soldier's family by a 72-year-old white woman.

The judicial system is the "imprimatur of illegitimacy" in United States society, William M. Kunstler, defense lawyer in the Chicago Seven conspiracy trial, said Saturday. The courts have put more innocent people in prison than have been kept out, Mr. Kunstler told a news conference. The American lawyer was in Ottawa to tape a television show at station CJOH. He is appealing sentence for contempt of court in the conspiracy trial, in which five defendants were convicted and two acquitted of crossing state lines with intent to riot during the 1968 Democratic Party national convention.

Senator's Plan To End Strife In Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator J. W. Fulbright says the United Nations, using force if necessary, should settle the Middle East conflict by restoring pre-war borders and patrolling neutralized zones on both sides. And, "as an accommodation of Israel's mistrust of the United Nations," Fulbright suggests the United States follow up a treaty guarantee of Israel's security after she withdraws from territories occupied in 1967.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, advanced the proposals in a 37-page speech prepared for floor delivery today. In briefing reporters earlier, he commented that the plan could "bring the United Nations back to life."

The Arkansas Democrat noted that the UN Charter provides the authority to create a police force for keeping peace in the Mideast "but we've never had sufficient identity of interest with the Russians to do it." But he said that "the weight of evidence indicates that the Russians do indeed want a compromise settlement in the Middle East," and might agree to action by the UN Security Council.

WHITE WEDDING IN HOSPITAL

NORTH VANCOUVER, B.C. (CP) — The bride was dressed in white, and so was the groom.

Marvin Haaland, 68, expected to be out of hospital in time for his wedding to Hildur Steen, 65, Sunday, but a case of chicken pox after an operation forced a longer convalescence than expected.

So hospital staff brought the wedding to his hospital room. He and Mrs. Steen were dressed in white isolation smocks, and with white tissue paper flowers and tape recorded wedding music they were married by Rev. W. E. Newby.

The Lions Gate Hospital staff made a cake, one nurse brought lace from her own wedding and another brought the music, tape-recorded at her nuptials. When Mr. Haaland's bride arrived, unaware of what had been done, she found it "so crowded I could barely get through." Although in isolation, Mr. Haaland said about 45 people were in and out of the room.

His doctor popped in for a minute but just grinned, he said.

Coast To Coast Strike Is Set By U.S. Women

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Women plan to demand equality with men in rallies from coast to coast in the United States Wednesday, the day of a National Women's strike against menial jobs and kitchen work.

Leaders of the women's liberation movement, who called the strike to coincide with the 50th anniversary of women's suffrage in the U.S., say strike activities will include seminars, marches and the beginning of a nationwide boycott of five products that the movement contends insult women in their advertisements.

The National Organization of Women—NOW—said it will identify the five products in New York Wednesday. NOW said the products treat women as "deodorized young meat."

The strike's goals are job equality, free day-care centres and free abortions. NOW launched its strike week activities Sunday at a service in the Arlington Street Unitarian-Universalist Church in Boston. Betty Friedan, founder of the organization and author of The Feminine Mystique, predicted that millions of women will boycott their jobs and close down their kitchens Wednesday.

Bennett Invites Two Provinces To Join Ranks

EDMONTON (CP) — British Columbia Premier W. A. C. Bennett Saturday invited Manitoba and Saskatchewan to join the ranks of Canada's "have" provinces.

Just as the "dynamic policies" of Social Credit have turned B.C. and Alberta into two of Canada's three "have" provinces, the same thing can happen in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, the premier told about 2,000 persons celebrating the 35th birthday of Social Credit in Alberta.

Manitoba and Saskatchewan, the premier said, should "look over and compare themselves with Alberta and British Columbia."

"We can keep the rest of Canada afloat and we're glad to do it but we'd like a little help from Manitoba and Saskatchewan," he said.

AMSTERDAM BANS Sleeping Hippies
AMSTERDAM (AP) — Amsterdam banned Friday sleeping in and around Dam Square, a favorite meeting place for hippies of many countries.
Hundreds of hippies habitually sleep around the Dam monument and in the nearby streets, corridors and parks of central Amsterdam.

LONDON (CP) — City planners are considering ways of making the traffic island in the centre of Piccadilly Circus smaller and less accessible.
Currently, the base around the famous Eros fountain is a magnet for hundreds of hippies and foreign students each summer.
Londoners have protested that the crowd disfigures one of the city's most prominent sights.

CONTINUING TO CHANGE KELOWNA SKYLINE

A mighty crane, is in operation at the site of the partially completed federal building on Queensway, where construction crews are driving the project up to its three-storey height. Hampered by a three-month work stoppage, the $1,300,000 project will be behind its original completion date, and is now expected to be finished by the end of the year. Destined to house the new post office, the structure is now more than 40 per cent complete and employs about 25 men. Douillard Construction, prime contractor on the project, is also handling the Legion renovation. (Courier photo).

Workers Hustle To Handle Mail

Kelowna postal employees today began clearing a mail backlog accumulated during a 48-hour work stoppage Thursday and Friday.

Local postmaster W. J. Burgess said employees were "processing plenty of first class mail," adding that which they began processing Saturday.

More than 100 bags of bulk mail remained to be sorted at the postal station for delivery Tuesday.

First class mail processed during the weekend and today will be ready for delivery today and Tuesday.

Meanwhile in Vancouver, a post office spokesman said work stoppages last week resulted in a backlog of 30 million mail pieces in the Vancouver main post office.

He said the backlog should be cleared by Thursday, providing there were no further work stoppages.

A spokesman said the strike tied up about 2,000 unemployed and welfare cheques which were mailed Wednesday and Thursday.

However, in Kelowna, Mr. Burgess said no such backlog prevailed.

"If people don't receive their cheques, we hear about it," he said.

"So far, we have received no complaints."

Some Shifting Necessary After Sept. 8 Resumption

School District 23 (Kelowna) officials are preparing for an influx of students, but no one knows how many will be enrolled until school opens Sept. 8.

Fred Macklin, school district secretary-treasurer, said today projections based on average increases of nine to 12 per cent per year during the past five years, say 12,000 students will be enrolled in district schools.

This would be an increase of approximately 1,100 from the 10,793 pupils within the system last June.

During the past five years, the average increase in student population was 1,000 pupils, or 6,000 pupils since 1965.

Prior to 1965, Mr. Macklin says, the average increase was two and a half per cent to three per cent per year, or about a quarter of the rate during the past five years.

HIGHWAY FACTOR

"The opening of the Rogers Pass boosted our attendance," Mr. Macklin said, adding that residents flocked to the area in droves, creating problems for the school district.

With the current labor situation in the province, including strikes and lockouts, Mr. Macklin said there might be a decline in student population, but it would be difficult to calculate the figure until students register in the classrooms Sept. 8.

Registration has begun for students in elementary grades today and will complete on Wednesday. Secondary students will enroll Wednesday to Friday.

Mr. Macklin said a number of parents who recently arrived in the area believe they could enroll their students when schools open for the new year.

"This is incorrect," Mr. Macklin says, adding, "parents should enroll their children as soon as possible."

DOUBLED

If the past five years has seen the students population double, the same holds true for teachers.

Five years ago, about 200 teachers were employed in the system.

In June, 515 were employed, an increase of 60 from the previous year.

"During this period, experience has shown an increase of 40 to 50 teachers per year," Mr. Macklin says.

To accommodate the influx of teachers and pupils, the school board has had to add classrooms to existing structures, meaning some schools have had to operate on a shift schedule.

Shift schedules will operate at KLO and Dr. Knox Secondary and George Pringle and Rutland Secondary Schools.

Dr. Knox students will attend classes during one-half of a school day while KLO students attend classes at Dr. Knox the second half.

UNTIL EASTER

Mr. Macklin said this situation will continue until Easter, while construction continues on KLO Secondary School.

Classes will be shifted at George Pringle while construction continues on four classroom additions.

At Rutland Secondary, an 11-room addition will be constructed. Classes will also be shifted to allow for construction.

Kelowna Secondary and George Elliott are "OK," Mr. Macklin says, and no class shifts are anticipated.

Classes will be shifted at a number of elementary schools in the school district to facilitate construction or additions.

These schools include Westbank, Lakeview, Dorothea Walker, Wood Lake, Quigley Road and Raymer.

Students will be shifted at Ellison for two to three days to allow for completion Sept. 11.

WORK HALTED

The three-month lockout by the Construction Labor Relations Association against 10 trade unions halted work on the projects earlier this year.

Other schools to open in September are Quigley Road, Sept. 18 and the new Peacock elementary school, Sept. 25.

Completion dates for the other schools currently under construction range from Christmas to Easter.

Raymer Elementary, on the city's southern end, where four new classrooms and a library, worth $150,000, are being constructed, should be completed by Christmas.

RECORD YEAR?

Forest Fire Hazard Level Extremely High

A hot air inversion at higher levels is keeping the forest fire situation in the Kelowna ranger district at an "extremely high" potential.

Ranger Frank Pearce said today although only one spot fire was reported at Westbank during the weekend, continuing dry, humid weather is providing a "very interesting" situation, which is "particularly precarious" at higher levels. The weekend fire brings to 60 the number of blazes in the Kelowna ranger district since the fire season began May 1, almost equal the record of 61 blazes logged in the particularly bad year of 1960. This time last year there were 33 fires reported in the Kelowna ranger district.

Mr. Pearce said about 15 men are still engaged in mop-up operations at the Raymer Lake fire site, now calculated to encompass a burned area of some 2,600 acres. "As long as the weather stays hot and dry, it will keep smoldering," he added.

A quiet front is also reported on open fire permits, which have been banned in the province until further notice. "The public behaved itself during the weekend," said Mr. Pearce, who reminds campers, tourists and residents that infractions of the fire ban decree can lead to prosecution and a maximum fine of $500.

The area worst-hit by current forest blazes is in the Kamloops forest district, where 120 men using 20 bulldozers are fighting a 200-acre fire 30 miles east of that interior point. Located at Scotch Creek, the fire is reportedly burning in steep, heavily timbered slash. Another fire on the Rainy River, 10 miles from Port Mellon in the Vancouver district, was reported under control Sunday after growing from 70 to 105 acres. Another concern is a 12-acre fire at Hatzic Lake in the Vancouver forest district.

The detailed breakdown of total fires and costs in the Kamloops district and the whole of B.C. was not available today.

Fire fighting costs are running about four times ahead of this point last year and are nearing the all-time record of $7,000,000 for one fire season, he added.

His comments were echoed by Walter Solme, also of Kelowna, who never thought the city would stop trying for events like summer or winter games.

"Why should they stop just because they don't get one?" Another resident, a young housewife, said she never took much interest, but thought it would be a good thing to keep trying for events which "let people know where Kelowna was."

The only note of caution was from one man who felt the city should make serious "and costly" bids only when they believed Kelowna had a good chance of success.

A little caution was also urged by Roger Cottle, a major worker in the unlimited hydroplane competitions held in Kelowna in 1966-67.

Mr. Cottle said events have a two-fold benefit for a city—to bring people in and attaining publicity.

"If you're looking at it strictly from a publicity angle then the events should be sifted—some create tremendous publicity but some don't," he said.

He added, however, most events staged in Kelowna were "great for the community."

Briarwood Into Final

The south side of Briarwood Avenue, between 1221 and 1359, is the sixth and final week's winner in the current Kelowna Kiwanis Club's block beautiful campaign.

The grand award winner will be named next week from the six winners, Briarwood, Maple Street, Taylor Crescent, Carruthers Street, south side of 1300 block Wilson Avenue and the north side of 1200 block Lawson Ave.

Lawson Avenue was last year's grand award winner. Individual homes judged this week were 764, 1033 and 1165 Stockwell Ave.; 765 and 775 Walrod St.; 2497 Abbott St.; 1460 Mountain Ave.; 905 and 974 Kennedy St.; 1258 Mountainview St.; 1381 Cherry Cres. East; and 1462 and 1467 Lombardy Sq.

NO INJURIES

A rear-end collision on Highway 33 and Hollywood Road Saturday resulted in about $450 damage and no injuries. Vehicles involved in the mishap at 4:30 p.m. were driven by Ernest Vancha of Rutland and Robert Crawford of Kelowna.

$1,800 DAMAGE

A truck driven by Kenneth Melnickel of Kelowna, left the highway at the intersection of Old Vernon Road and Anderson Road at 3:30 a.m., today, hitting about $1,800 damage. No injuries were reported.

New Games Bid Gains Support

Disappointment without bitterness seems to be Kelowna's attitude about losing the 1973 Canada Summer Games to Burnaby-New Westminster.

Although the summer games are the second big athletic event which Kelowna has bid for in two years, no one is suggesting curtailing efforts to bring national and international competition to the city.

From Mayor Hilbert Roth, who declared, on the day Ottawa announced the choice, Kelowna would keep trying, to former committee men who worked on large-scale events, to the man on the street, everyone seems to want the city in the running for future activity.

Foremost in everyone's mind seems to be the concept that Kelowna can handle the big-time events.

Kelowna has a proven record in staging national events in the past five years.

STARTING IN 1966

Starting with unlimited hydroplane races in 1966 and 1967, the city has staged the Canadian Curling Championships (March, 1968), the Dominion Drama Festival Final (May, 1969) and the Canadian Junior Golf Championships (August, 1969).

In the case of the Brier, Kelowna men bid for seven years before getting the event. Of the past 29 Briers, Kelowna ranks 14th on the attendance list, in spite of its being the smallest community ever to stage the event, with by far the smallest arena.

Participants and officials attending national events here have always spoken highly of the city's ability to stage the events, although none have been as large as the Canada Games.

The next winter games (after Saskatoon next year) are in 1975. After the 1973 summer games in New Westminster-Burnaby, the next summer games will be in 1977.

Harold Long, chairman of the committee which brought the 1969 Brier to Kelowna, said perseverance is the key to bringing big-time sporting activity to a city.

MUCH WORK

Before Brier was staged here five years of bids and between-bids public relations had laid down the groundwork for acceptance by the curling authorities.

"You've got to keep plugging and plugging," Mr. Long said, "there should be personal representation, you've got to go down there and knock on doors."

"I think we should definitely continue to bid—it takes time but these things are worth while."

J. S. J. (Jim) Gibb, chairman of the committee hosting the Canadian Junior Golf Championships held last year at the Kelowna Golf and Country Club, expressed sorrow about Ottawa's choice because the city would have received

Some Rain; Mostly Hot

A few showers and thunderstorms are expected in the Okanagan this afternoon and evening, although skies should be mainly sunny today and Tuesday.

Winds could gust to 25 mph in thunderstorms.

The highs today and Tuesday should be 90 or 95, while the lows tonight should drop to the 50s.

The high and low in Kelowna Saturday were 87 and 46, and Sunday 92 and 51. There was no precipitation either day.

RUTLAND'S OASIS OF COOL

On a blazing hot day, a good part of the youth of Rutland heads for the Centennial Park Pool for a cooling dip. Recently completed renovation enlarged and improved the pool, which has been an oasis of cool in the community for almost two decades. Modern chlorination and drainage facilities were installed and lifeguards are on duty daily. Part of the renovations were paid for by a $3,000 grant from the Rutland Agricultural Society and partly by community projects like the recent walkathon-swimathon, which netted $12,000 for the pool fund. —(Courier Photo)

SEEN and HEARD

A Kelowna woman who had her own bush Sunday at Flintry estates was almost discovered. Following a swim, she decided not to go back to the ladies' room in the dining hall to change, but thought a secluded bush around the corner from the swimming area would suffice. She had just completed her quick change when an elderly man strolled by her bush, much to the amusement of several swimmers watching the procedure.

Motorists in the Mission Saturday were intrigued by a young miss leading her horse while riding a bicycle. The unusual combination was apparently not the smoothest operation; as the horse would either lag behind at the end of the reins or crowd up close to the cyclist... clearly not a recommended practice for cyclists.

Two small boys having a quiet smoke while seated on the ledge of the retaining wall close to the M.V. Flintry Queen's dock Sunday were unaware of the curious glances of the passengers about to embark on a cruise. When they finally discovered their "audience" one jauntily replied he was enjoying his smoke, but the other, who looked rather greenish around the gills, only held his head and mumbled.

Conventions Important

Seventeen reasons why conventions are important to business firms, 10 reasons why they are vital to communities, and some reasons why conventions are important to governments were given to the Commons finance committee by the Travel Industry Association of Canada (formerly the Canadian Tourist Association).
Opposing the taxation "White Paper" proposals to tax convention and entertainment expenses, the TIAC brief said the move would seriously harm business in many cities and throw thousands of persons out of work.
Convention delegates spent about $200 million in Canada during 1969, according to TIAC research, of which $140 million was for community services and the rest in travel.
While most of the large national and international conventions were held in three major cities, two-thirds of the total convention business was shared by more than 80 small cities, for which convention business was "extremely important".
Any diminution of attendance would injure the communities' travel and hospitality services facilities and the associations involved," the TIAC brief said. Tax revenues of governments at all levels would be drastically reduced.
Basing its arguments on white paper statements indicating a "disastrous" 85 per cent decrease in convention and entertainment spending, the brief envisaged a layoff of up to 36,000 persons, directly involved in the industry and another 67,000 whose livelihood depended on them.

New Auto Safety Rules

The transport department has announced a sweeping series of proposed motor vehicle safety regulations, including a provision aimed at limiting exhaust emissions given out by gasoline-powered vehicles.
Departmental spokesmen say the proposals are almost identical to those now in effect in the United States and would hit mainly some European and Japanese cars coming into Canada.
Interested parties will be allowed about a month to make representations to the department before the proposals are drafted into formal regulations to take effect at the end of this year.
A bill permitting the government to set standards for auto safety was passed by the Commons this spring. It sets out a maximum fine of $200,000 for any manufacturer or importer breaking the regulations.
A spokesman said the transport department also is working on safety regulations for snow vehicles and farm tractors, not included in the current regulations. He said the snow vehicle proposals should be ready in six weeks.
The proposal governing hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide auto exhaust emissions is a highly technical one.
It would limit the amount of hydrocarbon given off by a light-duty vehicle to 2.2 grams per vehicle mile and to 275 parts per million by volume for a heavy vehicle.
Carbon monoxide emission would be limited to 23 grams per vehicle mile and 1.5 per cent by volume for a heavy vehicle.
The crankcases of gasoline-powered vehicles would have to be built in such a way, under the proposals, that no crankcase emissions could escape.
The exhaust proposal also carries detailed instructions for testing of cars by manufacturers.
Spokesmen say the department is also actively studying possible measures to limit noise from motor vehicles. Such a regulation is already in effect in California and the idea is being studied in Britain.

"The problems and costs of re-training for other jobs are staggering to contemplate."
Tax losses could amount to $62 million for the federal government, $28 million for the provinces, and $19 million for cities, making a total loss of $109 million.
Furthermore, if companies and other organizations did not send delegates to annual meetings of associations, the associations would be severely damaged.
The TIAC brief said conventions were not play sessions but were important to business for learning about new equipment, new processes, new products, exchanging information and ideas, making contacts, training staff, and learning what governments are doing—among other things.
A survey of 100 major corporations showed that top executives considered conventions important for greater efficiency and more sales—hence greater tax revenue for governments. Convention attendance was carefully regulated and expenditures were controlled in cost-benefit terms. Convention attendance was not a bonus or reward for employees but involved long hours and hard work.
A survey of major national business and trade associations showed that 90 per cent of daytime activity at conventions was devoted to business and 90 per cent of the delegates attended the business sessions. Association executives predicted that the white paper proposal would reduce convention attendance and restrict some conventions to central Canada.

DON QUIXOTE FORGOT HIS HORSE

Future Population Growth May Be Extremely Costly

MONTREAL (CP) — Animals die in crowded places because of stress, says a McGill University psychology professor.
If the same is true in humans, and it probably is, then the cost of future population growth will be high.
Karl Konrad says that in conditions of overpopulation "the mechanisms of social order collapse or are absent."
To put it another way, when people are forced to exist in crowded areas their society may eventually collapse due to crime, violence, disease and depression—all caused by the stress of being crowded by other human beings.
No one has yet proved that human beings react to stress in the same way animals do. But many scientists have strong suspicions that stress and frustration can drive people to distraction and they point to violence in the ghettos, a rising suicide rate and heart and ulcer conditions among executives as preliminary evidence.
WE SUFFER TWICE
Prof. Konrad suggests that "crowding may be stressful in man to the extent that it involves a loss of control" over his immediate environment.
For example, crowded supermarkets and traffic jams are situations that can reduce normal men and women to a state of screaming despair, weeping, physical illness, fighting and even homicide.
And there's the example of someone whose sleep is continually disturbed by, say, noisy neighbors and street clatter.
"After a while, even if the din ceases, you lie awake, sweating, waiting for it to start again," Prof. Konrad says after a few nights of noisy interruptions "sleep may become almost impossible."
We suffer once for the stress of each real interruption and once again for the anxiety over the expectation of each future interruption.
The effects of stress caused by overcrowding among animals are well-documented. Symptoms of animal stress include ulcers, hypertension, impotence and glandular upsets as well as withdrawal from the community, desecration of young, homosexuality and other sexual perversions and aggressive behavior.
These changes, says Prof. Konrad, seem to result from the fact that stress can overstimulate the adrenal cortex, which pumps out more than 45 hormones controlling many important body functions.
Like an automobile engine, if it is driven too hard the whole system breaks down.
He points especially to a study of overcrowding among Norway rats.
The rats were placed in a pen, divided into four interconnected squares. Strong dominant rats took control of two of the pens, forcing weaker rats into the other two.
The pens chosen by the dominant rats could be entered only from one direction, making them easy to defend. The other two could be entered from two directions and thus were more difficult to control.
As the population in the pens increased the dominant rats kept their areas comfortable and uncrowded, while the excess population was forced into the other two pens making them helplessly overcrowded.
And as crowding increased behavior deteriorated.
Some rats withdrew from the colony to lie in a stupor. Only at night did they venture forth to nibble at food troughs. Others developed bizarre sexual habits, with males mounting males as well as pregnant females and females too old to conceive. Fighting erupted for no apparent reason.
These abnormalities were not found in the uncrowded pens. Females there were sleek and healthy and took care of their young.
Prof. Konrad says that although there is a lack of data about man's reaction to overcrowding "men and rats share the same physiological mechanisms of response to stress."
This is his analysis of what might happen to man in crowded conditions:
"There is a loss of control over environmental interactions.
"It is often impossible to complete actions or intended actions because of frequent interruptions.
"The individual is uncertain as to how other individuals are going to act at any given moment."
In such conditions, men may be forced to pursue every aspect of life in the midst of relative strangers whose behavior with respect to themselves is largely changing or unknown.
In uncrowded societies—small towns, for example—people know each other and generally have the security of knowing in advance how various people are likely to act in any situation.
MAN BETTER OFF
Even in larger towns the way people dress, the jobs they have, the clubs they belong to and even their accent when speaking helps others get an idea of how they will act.
But in crowded urban ghettos strange faces drift by. People are constantly moving from one address to another. The result is that it's difficult to know how a neighbor will act or what his beliefs are.
Man is unique, though, in having more control over stress than animals. He can modify his environment, choose certain occupations, places to live, attitudes. The number system can be used in crowded stores, the queue system to regulate admissions, to crowded areas.

Is It Democracy In Latin America?

By PHILIP DEANE
Foreign Affairs Analyst
Brazil, the largest Latin American country and potentially an economic giant, is taking some steps which are interpreted as a slow movement back towards democracy after years of military dictatorship. All legislative assemblies, closed since 1968, will be allowed to reopen. The Brazilian government (which is, in effect, the army) says this relaxation of the dictatorship is in preparation for elections in November.
These will not be free elections, as we understand them. They will be run by governors who have just been appointed by the army regime and who will take office one month before the elections. The nominations of the governors must be submitted to the legislative assemblies of the various Brazilian states, but army control is so evident that approval of the nominees seems certain in most cases; unpleasant things happen to legislators who oppose the army.
The list of these new governors is composed mainly of technocrats who have largely had nothing to do with politics. Three of the 22 governors are military men. One, the governor of Guanabara state which is the administrative name for metropolitan Rio de Janeiro, is

Mackenzie King Kept A Record

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
It is nearly a half-century since the late W. L. Mackenzie King first became prime minister of Canada; it is nearly a quarter-century since he retired. During his long political heyday, the grandson of Canada's Little Rebel confided to his diary his thoughts, his deeds and his trivialities. Although in the eyes of some he had much to be modest about, he egotistically referred to his daily notes as The Record. Hence the title, The Mackenzie King Record, of two new volumes of extracts from that diary, covering 1945-46 and 1947-48, just published by the University of Toronto Press at $17.50 per volume.
Totalling 849 pages, this further contemporary comment by a prime minister is obviously both a tit-bit for politicians and a rich mine for historians. So frank and uninhibited were Mackenzie King's confidences to his "special secret diary" that he either wrote it himself in his minuscule hand, or else dictated it to his confidential secretary, Mr. J. E. Handy. He then surprisingly committed the greater—and probably most interesting—part of his Record to the ashes, stipulating in his will that his literary executors should "destroy all of my diaries except those parts which I have indicated shall be available for publication."
Those parts which are now published make one hanker for a glimpse at what are not. The selection and continuity was provided in part by King's former special assistant, J. W. Pickersgill. Canadianians familiar with the men on Parliament Hill might expect that a book written by King and edited by Pickersgill would be as appetizing as a salmon souffle made from codfish and suet. But this would ignore the complex character of that strange Scottish-Canadian Mackenzie King, fickle and fey, circumspect yet calculating, and vigilant but vicious.
The Record surprisingly gives comment less than laudatory to many ministers in King's last cabinet; and which world statesman, describing his attendance

CANADA'S STORY

Canadian Ships Were Famous

By BOB BOWMAN
Before Confederation the British North American colonies, now Canada, had some of the finest ships in the world and the best men to sail them. It was the era of "wooden ships and iron men". Nova Scotia had 2,500 ships whose trade made the people of that colony the wealthiest, per capita, in all British North America.
New Brunswick produced vessels like the Marco Polo which was launched at Saint John in 1851 and because the fastest sailing ship in the world, Marco Polo served as a passenger liner between Britain and Australia and in 1867 made the trip from Melbourne to Liverpool in 76 days. This was a week faster than the new-fangled steamships could make the journey.
Canada also had steamships as early as 1831, when the Royal William, which was built at Quebec, went into service on Aug. 24. Of course the iron men of the sailing ships didn't like steamships and one of them described the Royal William as a "smoke-belching, paddle-wheeling, clanking steam kettle". It was possibly an apt description.
Royal William was intended for service along the St. Lawrence, especially between Quebec and Halifax, but the run did not prove profitable. Then she began trading into Boston and was the first British steamship to enter a U.S. port.
Eventually Royal William was sold to interests in England and left Pictou, N.S., on Aug. 17, 1833, after picking up a load of coal for fuel. The voyage to England took 25 days and was historic because Royal William was the first ship to cross the North Atlantic using steam-power alone. The Americans claim that the Savannah deserves the distinction but Savannah used sails as well as steam.
OTHER EVENTS ON AUG. 24:
1791—Order-in-Council divided Canada into Upper and Lower provinces effective Dec. 26.
1814—British captured Washington, D.C. as reprisal for U.S. attacks on York (Toronto) and Newark (Niagara-on-the-Lake).
1852—Nanaimo was founded by Governor Douglas.
1870—Canadian troops led by Col. Garnet Wolseley (later a famous British soldier) arrived at Fort Gary.
1923—British Columbia and Alberta coal mines opened after being strike-bound since March 31, 1922.
1926—Vancouver Province named Okanagan water monster Ogopogo.

IT HAPPENED IN CANADA

Bygone Days (From Courier Files)
10 YEARS AGO August 1960
City merchants voiced strong objection to a Kelowna city council proposal to throw the shop closing regulations wide open. Chief spokesmen for the merchants were Harry Mitchell and Bert Johnston. Mayor Parkinson said "A larger city of Kelowna is going to come into being sooner than expected, and changes will be inevitable." Decision was postponed until after Sept. 15 when the boundary extension comes into effect.
20 YEARS AGO August 1950
The Kelowna post office staff played host to 150 postal employees from Dooyouks to Kamloops, at the second annual Okanagan Postal Employees picnic on Sunday, in the Kelowna Park. The softball game between north and south ended in a 16-16 tie. The 1951 picnic is to be held in Vernon.
30 YEARS AGO August 1940
D Company, Rocky Mountain Rangers, and B Squadron of the B.C. Dragoons, left for two weeks in camp on Mission Hill, Vernon. There are over 1,000 men on strength of the two units, with detachments in Kamloops, Revelstoke, Salmon Arm, Armstrong, Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton.
40 YEARS AGO August 1930
Miss Margaret MacKenzie, chataleine at government house, Victoria, was entertained at a luncheon given in her honor by the ladies of Kelowna and district. Guests included Mrs. S. F. Tolinie, wife of the premier, Mrs. C. A. Cotterell, Vancouver, and Lieut. Gov. Randolph Bruce. Mrs. D. H. Rattenbury, wife of the mayor, presided at the function.
50 YEARS AGO August 1920

A high honor has come to Kelowna with the selection of James Gibb as one of the judges at the Third National Apple Show to be held at Spokane Nov. 4 to 19.

Double-Ring Ceremony At First Lutheran Church

First Lutheran Church, Kelowna, was the setting for a double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Darlene Marie Solz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Solz of Kelowna and Calvert Ward Shelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shelton, Vancouver. Rev. E. Treit, of Vancouver, conducted the 5 p.m. ceremony on Aug. 15 with Mrs. John Sulzer of Kelowna at the organ, accompanying soloist Ernie Burnett who sang The Lord's Prayer and excerpts from Handel's Messiah.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in an A-line full-length gown of corded silk which featured a softly pleated overskirt which fell into a long train. Lace appliques enhanced the rounded neckline, the three-quarter length sleeves and train. Her short bouffant veil of white tulle was held in place by a spray of lily of the valley, and she carried a cascade bouquet of deep pink roses.

GRANDMOTHER'S EARRINGS
Her only adornment was her grandmother's gold pierced earrings.

Mrs. Wayne Loughheed, her sister Diane of Montreal, served as matron-of-honor and bridesmaids were Judy Pope of Vancouver and Nancy Bullock of Kelowna.

They wore long gowns of mauve organza over taffeta featuring long sleeves and a high Elizabethan neckline. Cascading trains added back interest to the empire waists.

A single mauve organza rose with a veil formed the matron-of-honor's headdress and the bridesmaids wore mauve rosettes woven into their hair.

Curtis Shelton of Vancouver served as his brother's best man and ushers were Don Stolz and Greg Dawson, both of Kelowna. Ring bearer was Gregory Loughheed, the bride's nephew of Montreal.

A deep pink ensemble with gold accessories was chosen by the bride's mother, who received the guests at the reception which followed in the Royal Anne. A corsage of white carnations added contrast to her outfit as did the corsage of pink carnations worn by the bridegroom's mother who chose a turquoise lace dress for the event.

MAUVE THEME
Master of ceremonies was Wayne Loughheed and toasts were proposed by Scotty Dawson.

son. The mauve theme was continued with the three tiered wedding cake which centred the bride's table. The cake decorated in pink and mauve was topped with white bells and pink mums and pink rose buds dotted the white tulle setting.

Before leaving for a honeymoon to northern British Columbia, the bride donned her going away outfit—a yellow lace pant suit with white accessories adorned with a single mauve orchid corsage.

The newlyweds will reside in Vancouver.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Loughheed and Greg of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shelton and Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. H. Paul Janice Dockery, Ruth Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Astofooroff, Dean Andow, Mr. and Mrs. George Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gardecki, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffer, Mr. and Mrs. H. Krikau, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fox of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. K. Spearman and Mr. and Mrs. A. Stoltz of Burnaby; Mrs. Annie Stapley, New Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. D. Holte, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keen, all of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heinzman, Doug Dawson, of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. U. Rella, Mr. and Mrs. D. Gillyean, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ratoff, Grand Forks; Vern Broeder of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Vic Rella, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anselma, Mr. and Mrs. Alice Rella and Carol, Trail; Mr. and Mrs. L. Kieker, Coquitlam; Mr. and Mrs. Evans Loughheed, Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Kopp, Phoenix, Arizona.

But in converse, short skirts were the rule among the women in the near-capacity crowd at the 2,300-seat Centennial Concert Hall. The showing was the first National Collection open to the public in its nine years and the first in the West.

The show, sponsored by the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union in co-operation with Canadian designers, was held here to honor Manitoba's centennial.

The clothes were both exciting and disappointing, but a departure from the symbol of the liberated woman, the mini dress.

Mid-length coats, trimmed at cuff, collar and hem with genuine and imitation fur, were well-received. Whites and rich, darker colors were predominant. Tight head wraps—like the toques aspiring six-year-old hockey players wear—accompanied many coats, as did floppy suede hats.

Featured pants styles were knee-length gauchos, widely flared, and below-the-knee knickers. Both styles were matched with vests, which themselves came into more prominence.

But mini suits, that war-years look found mainly in family photo albums, generally received the brunt of comments.

"On one hand they're putting men on the moon, and on the other hand they're hobbling women in long skirts," said Diana Ricardo, fashion writer of the Vancouver Sun.

MODELS COMFORTABLE
The models who wore the minis insisted they were comfortable, and said they would wear them themselves, throwing on the occasional mini for variation.

Accessories played an important part in the total look. Wide belts and big buckles with midi skirts, choker necklaces, leather pouches and headbands, plus scarves loosely and tightly worn were used throughout.

Knits were popular in all fashions with tweeds, velvets and suetens in mostly darker tones widely used. Fancy dresses featured satin and maribou.

The show was dominated by Montreal designers, whose clothes consistently drew applause.

HITHER and YON

Kelowna architect, Peter Fulker, left Wednesday for a combination business-pleasure trip abroad. During his three week tour he will attend an architectural seminar at Helsinki and will also make stops at Copenhagen and Stockholm to view new trends in building there. On his return trip he will stop off at Kent, England, where he will enjoy a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Fulker.

Back from an exciting week are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Shaw of Glenella Place, who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Smith of Victoria on a sailing trip on their 25 foot craft up through the Gulf Islands and around Salt Springs. Mrs. Shaw, who had never sailed before, found the adventure fascinating. They were accompanied by another sail boat with two other couples and among the 'sailors' were a couple of skin divers who kept the 'gang' supplied with free oysters and other delectable sea foods.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Johnson of Okanagan Mission have had as guests, Mrs. Johnson's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Kilgour of Red Deer, Alta.

Mrs. Larry Lowes of Lynwood Crescent and daughter Christine and son Gordon have returned from a motor trip to the Prairies where they enjoyed a relaxing two week holiday with Mrs. Lowes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. Spearman and Mr. and Mrs. A. Stoltz of Burnaby; Mrs. Annie Stapley, New Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. D. Holte, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keen, all of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heinzman, Doug Dawson, of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. U. Rella, Mr. and Mrs. D. Gillyean, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ratoff, Grand Forks; Vern Broeder of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Vic Rella, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anselma, Mr. and Mrs. Alice Rella and Carol, Trail; Mr. and Mrs. L. Kieker, Coquitlam; Mr. and Mrs. Evans Loughheed, Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Kopp, Phoenix, Arizona.

Family members enjoying a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Newsome of Mountain View Avenue have been their daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Phillips and family and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Eggen and Lynn and David, all of Calgary. Also joining the family for a holiday visit were Mrs. Newsome's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Canfield of Paradise Hill, Sask.

Weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Crosby, Sutherland Avenue, were Mrs. Crosby's sister and brother-in-law and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Swanson and Karen of Edmonton who stopped off on their holiday trip to the States and will be enjoying a longer stay on their return trip.

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Hickling left for their home in Brandon, Man., on Sunday after enjoying two weeks swimming, golfing and visiting with friends and relatives in the Okanagan while they were guests with Mr. Hickling's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lowe of Walnut Street.

Pick Up And Go Picnic Ideas For Do-It-Yourself Sandwiches
By ALICE DENHOFF
With pantry shelf staples and a few extra items, there's no need to stay up half the night frying chicken for tomorrow's picnic. Here are some ideas for last-minute picnic food.

PIZZA STYLE SANDWICH
4 slices bread
Mayonnaise
Lettuce
1 ripe avocado, peeled and sliced
Pepperoni slices
4 slices American cheese
1 tomato, sliced
Cover bread with mayonnaise, then with lettuce. Place 4 avocado slices on each slice of bread, working from each corner to center. Fill area between avocado slices, alternately with pepperoni and cheese. Top with tomato slice. With all the fixings spread out, it's fun to do instant sandwiches.

CALIFORNIA HAM AND AVOCADO RINGS
4 slices bread
Mayonnaise
2 ripe avocados
8 thin slices boiled or baked ham
Cherry tomatoes
Lettuce
Spread bread with mayonnaise. Peel and slice avocados crosswise into rings. Arrange across center of bread. Cut slices of ham for each side of avocados. Garnish with tomatoes and lettuce.

For another easy sandwich job:
JIFFY CHICKEN SANDWICHES
4 slices bread
Mayonnaise
2 (5 ounce) cans chicken spread
2 ripe avocados
1 onion, thinly sliced
Spread bread with mayonnaise, then a generous layer of chicken spread. Peel and slice avocados; arrange in pinwheel design in center of sandwich. Garnish with onion slices.

CHANGE IN HOLIDAYS
FREDERICTON (CP) — Education Minister W. W. Meldrum of New Brunswick has announced that beginning in 1971 provincial schools will close for one week from the first Monday in March. This mid-winter break will replace the traditional Easter recess but schools will continue to close for Good Friday and Easter Monday.

Taxation Figures Show Increase For Women

OTTAWA (CP) — Though it's a slow process, the women's liberation movement isn't a new thing as Canada's taxation statistics show.

Such figures are interesting for businessmen trying to keep up with the times and income trends.

The latest analysis of old income tax returns made by the federal revenue department shows average earnings of women have increased faster than the average earnings of men.

In this analysis, the revenue department took the tax returns of individuals for whom it has a continuous record for the period 1964 to 1968, inclusive.

The average earnings of men in 1964 were $4,909, and for women, $2,860. That alone seems grist for the liberators' mills.

The average income of women filing income tax returns was only 58.2 per cent of men's earnings in 1964.

However, using this same group of individuals for its comparison, the revenue department says that in 1968, average men's earnings rose to $6,779, an increase of 38.1 per cent, while women's earnings rose 39.3 per cent. The average of the 1964 group of women rose to $3,984 in 1968.

The average of female earnings in 1968 was 58.8 per cent of men's earnings, using the same individuals' income tax returns in the comparison.

PAY ALIMONY
The 1970 edition of the revenue department's taxation statistics journal also shows an increase in the number of women seeking equality, including the right of privilege of paying alimony to their erstwhile spouses.

The taxpaying women of Canada claimed exemptions in 1968 on $218,000 they paid in alimony. This compares with $47.3 million claimed as alimony expenses by men. But, some might say, it's a start.

Curiously enough, the tax statistics show that $120,000 of the $218,000 claimed exemptions for a 11m only were claimed by women in the 40 to 44 age group. Women 30 to 34 claimed $82,000, and women between 35 and 39, and between 50 and 54 together claimed $12,000.

CAPSULE COMMENTS

From DYCK'S PHARMACISTS

With school not too far away NOW is the time you should be sending your child in for that important eye checkup. And if this doesn't sound too important to you or for your child it's well to remember that an average of about 25 out of every 100 children starting school today have been found to have faulty vision. And today your doctor has new diagnostic and treatment techniques that were unknown only a few short years ago. And there are drugs that help to preserve good vision. With much poor reading ability being directly attributable to faulty vision why take a chance with your child's learning potentials? Why not call your doctor today for that important testing of your child's vision?

Thank you for bringing your prescriptions to Dyck's Pharmacists. We're glad to offer you the many little extra services that only your own pharmacy can give you. Here at 545 Bernard we're always looking for new ways to be of service for your good health.

Smiling Funk A Favorite With Huge Tillicum Crowd

By RON ALLERTON

Ab Funk is almost always smiling, but Saturday night the grin was just a bit wider.

The popular Kelowna stock car driver finally put it all together at Vernon's Tillicum Raceway, leading the way through the most spectacular night of racing ever seen at the Pacific Northwest's finest new three-eighths-mile track.

Funk, a big favorite with the huge Tillicum racing crowds, smashed the B modified record and won all four races in his class. He and Vernon's Bruce Georgeson were the only local drivers to win, as they completely dominated the B modified and modified stock classes. Georgeson pushed his green machine to four wins and ran the season with a total of 20, only one behind Kelowna's Drew Kitch, who lost a timing gear in practice and had to put his B modified up for the night.

REALLY FLYING

Funk was really flying in time trials and through all four races. He got under Kitch's record unofficially in practice Thursday night and Saturday he made it official. The mark was 17.5 seconds and Funk did 17.4 in the first of his two timed laps. The second time around he was in at 17.2, with three-tenths clipped off the old mark.

He got stiff competition from Doug MacNaughton, but with his car running better than ever before in three seasons, he won without too much trouble.

Funk's 17.2 clocking was only five tenths off the all-time track record, 16.7, set July 28 by an A modified from Washington State.

Funk's record was one of three set Saturday. Super stock driver Jim MacMillan, with his '69 Dodge Charger out of Belingham, Wash., lowered the super stock standard to 18.2 seconds, from 21 flat.

CROWD RECORD

And the crowd set its own record: close to 5,000, with more than 4,000 paid, the largest crowd ever to watch a stock car race in the Okanagan Mainline. They saw the second largest field in track history (35 cars) go through 140 laps in 13 events.

They watched five different super stock drivers win and later heard more glowing praise about their track.

"Yakima (half mile, with flat corners) has the name, but you've got the track," said one super stock jockey.

"If we could find a truck big enough we'd sure like to take this track back to Langley," said another.

The super stockers joined a growing list of visiting drivers

BRUCE GEORGESON ... closing in who say the new Vernon track could be the best in western North America, under five-eighths of a mile.

RESULTS

Following are first, second and third places in all events. Modified stock trophy dash: Georgeson, Earl Stein and Ted Spencer; B modified dash: Funk, MacNaughton and Joe Harvey; super stock fast dash: Gordie Hemrich ('64 Chevelle), MacMillan ('69 Charger) and John Rothwell ('66 Comet); super stock slow dash: Mac Morrison ('66 Chevelle), Harvey Brown ('57 Chevy) and Butch McCormack ('60 Ford); modified stock first heat: Georgeson, Spencer and Earl Stein; B modified first heat: Funk, MacNaughton and Pete Smirl; super stock fast heat:

Brown, Hemrich and Al Mackie ('55 Chevy); super stock slow heat: Don Gibson ('57 Chevy), Stotts and Danny James ('58 Ford); modified stock second heat: Georgeson, Bob Stein and Earl Stein; B modified second heat: Funk, Greg McClelland and Smirl; modified stock main: Georgeson, Gerald Humphries and Bob Stein; B modified main: Funk, MacNaughton and MacMillan; super stock main: (35 laps) MacMillan, Rothwell and Tom Hawkins ('57 Chevy).

TOURING THE PITS

The track took a high toll of super stocks in the 35-lap main event. Most drivers are used to running on the smaller Langley track, with eight-degree corner banking. The bigger Tillicum Raceway, with 15 per cent corners produced higher speeds and caused several blown motors. Of 14 cars off the line in the main only five finished.

Like every other visiting group, the super stockers want to return next year, and next time they promise to change their rear end gearing, so they can handle the higher speeds.

More Langley cars are on the way, with a double header of racing set for Labor Day weekend. The regular Okanagan Track Racing Association cars will run the Saturday night, then join more than 20 Langley early-lates on the holiday Monday.

Racing resumes Saturday at 8 p.m., after 7:30 p.m. time trials. No visiting cars are scheduled, but with the way word has been spreading about the track several could arrive unannounced.

WALLY SEHN ... winner

DAVE KROSCHINSKY ... loser

Rutland Bows To Willows

The Willow Inn Willows of the Kelowna and District Senior B softball league did unto the Rutland Molson Rovers, Sunday, what the Rovers had done unto them.

Taking advantage of errors, walks, and wild pitches, to go along with just four hits, the Willows breezed to a 4-0 win over the Rovers, to narrow their best-of-seven series to 3-2.

The Willows, victims of their own mistakes on at least two occasions in the series, gave an early indication of what was to be, as losing pitcher Dave Kroschinsky issued a base on balls to lead-off batter Tim Rieger.

Rieger was forced at second on the next play, as Wayne North tried a sacrifice bunt. But North took second himself, as Kroschinsky put one in the dirt while working on third Willow batter Eugene Knorr.

North advanced to third tagging up on a Knorr fly into left field, and scored on another wild pitch by Kroschinsky.

SHORT RECOVERY

The young Rutland hurler recovered in the second frame, getting three consecutive Willows batters on strikeouts, but again fell victim to miscues.

Dale Armeaneu, who along with Lorne White collected the only hits of the game for Willows, each collecting two, while batting in the tail end of the lineup, started the frame with a single, and advanced to second on sacrifice by Rieger. A line drive by Knorr squeezed through the hands of second baseman Mick Kroschinsky, to score Armeaneu, and give the Willows a 2-0 lead.

White led off the fifth inning with a single into right field, and along with North scored on throwing errors by Rover shortstop Don Schneider, and third baseman Gord Runzer, to close out the scoring.

Tension, in the hotly contested series reached somewhat of a boiling point in the sixth inning, as catchers of each club, Bob Boyer and Adrian Rieger were ejected from the game by umpire Bill Dean after a skirmish at home plate. Both will sit out the next game of the series.

While watching the Rovers fumble through the seven innings, the Willows played flawlessly in the field behind their veteran chucker Wally Sehn.

Sehn, winner of both Willow games in the series, the other being a 11-3 victory, held the Rovers to just four hits, while getting seven on strikeouts and issuing but two bases on balls, both to left hander Jack Yam-oaka.

Kroschinsky tried to get himself out of trouble, by collecting two hits, but fell short in his attempt on both occasions.

Series play resumes Tuesday in King's Stadium at 8 p.m.

Winner of the league final goes on to meet Kamloops Dearborn Mustangs in the inter-district best-of-three playoff this Sunday. The first game is scheduled for 2 p.m., the second for 4 p.m., and the third if necessary, at 7 p.m.

The survivors gain a spot in the B.C. championship being held in Kelowna Sept. 5, 6 and 7.

The Kelowna limited hydro-plane racer grabbed another 800 points during the weekend, as he continued his charge toward the regional and North American points championship for 145 cubic inch hydros.

Derrickson powered his War Canoe '69 to first place finishes both Saturday and Sunday at the Thunderbird Regatta on Harrison Lake in the Upper Fraser Valley.

The double win pushed his season points total to 9,602 of a possible 11,200, and put him within one first place finish of 10,000 points.

Kelowna's Mike Bate finished second in national points last year with just under 9,000 points.

For the first time in recent years there are more 145 cid races in the west than in the east and with Derrickson's season running into October he could finish with about 12,000 points.

Finishing second to Derrickson was his crew chief, Richard Kryger, in Miss Kelowna, Kryger, who also gave his bossman a hard run during the Kelowna Regatta here earlier this month, plans to put Miss Kelowna up for the rest of the year, to concentrate on getting War Canoe home first in the points chase.

Seven In A Row Good For Title
VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Mols clinched a dramatic comeback Sunday with their fourth game in nine hours and their seventh consecutive one in the tournament, downing Cranbrook 4-3 in the deciding match to capture the British Columbia men's football championship.

It was Mols' third final in as many years and their second title since 1967. After losing to Campbell River 5-4 in 11 innings on Friday in the tourney's first game, Mols swept aside Vancouver Eldorados 2-1, Victoria Mols 5-1, defending champion Victoria Bites 5-0, all on Saturday.

They carried on by knocking out Lake Cowichan 6-0, Campbell River 11-0 and defeating previously undefeated Cranbrook twice 7-2 and 4-3 on Sunday.

Restic Praises Litter After Ti - Cat's Victory

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats came up with what coach Joe Restic called "the best performance the club has put out this season" for a 27-6 Canadian Football League victory Saturday over the luckless Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Restic had words of praise for several of his key players, among them backup quarterback John Eckman, defensive halfback John Williams and Tommy Joe Coffey whose kicking earned him a league scoring record.

Coffey started the Ticat march with a first quarter field goal from 22 yards to give him a career total of 753 points. Jackie Parker, now coach of British Columbia Lions, held the previous record of 750 after 13 seasons with Edmonton Eskimos, Toronto Argonauts and B.C.

Coffey pushed the mark to 759 with another field goal from 43 yards in the third quarter and converts on touchdowns by Eckman and Dave Fleming.

The win put Hamilton in a tie with Toronto Argonauts, two points behind Montreal Alouettes who lead the Eastern Conference with six points. The Bombers are last in the West without a win in four games.

Eckman went into the game in the first quarter after veteran Joe Zuger got caught between two Winnipeg defenders just as he let go a pass.

"I got hit hard in the head," said Zuger. "I was pretty woozy."

Zuger went back in for punting chores in the second quarter.

"He's a different-looking quarterback than he was last year," Restic said of Eckman.

who completed nine of 17 passes for 165 yards. "That's what a little experience does."

Eckman got the first touchdown midway through the second quarter after five plays got the Ticats from midfield to the Winnipeg five-yard line where the quarterback plunged across for the score.

The Bombers got into the game early in the third quarter when they faked a field goal attempt from the Hamilton 31. Backup quarterback Ron Johnson went in to hold the ball for kicker Gene Lakuskiak, but instead rolled out to the right and fired a pass to end Lou Andras in the end zone.

Lakuskiak failed on the convert attempt.

The Hamilton defensive halfbacks snuffed out any further Winnipeg comeback attempts, with Williams providing close coverage on Bomber's ace receiver, Ken Nielson.

Williams also intercepted one of Wally Gabler's passes. Garney Henley picked off one and Mac Sauls intercepted two.

INTERCEPTION COUNTS

Fleming got his first touchdown early in the fourth quarter by plunging across from the one-yard line and Williams' interception set up the other major score in the final minutes.

On the second play after the interception, Eckman fired a 23-yard pass to Fleming at the Winnipeg goal-line and many of the crowd of 19,233 started to leave Civic Stadium.

Fleming's 60 yards on 13 carries and Ed Buchanan's 64 in eight helped the Ticats to a total of 204 yards rushing against 129 by Winnipeg. Fullback Bob Hounard was the leading Bomber rusher with 56 yards in 11 carries.

Gabler completed 10 of 20 passes for 135 yards while Johnson was in on only one play for the touchdown.

The Ticats recorded a total offense of 355 yards to Winnipeg's 288.

The Bombers go back home to meet Toronto Wednesday while the Ticats have more than two weeks to prepare for their meeting with Montreal Sept. 7.

Failure With Two CFL Teams To Play With Rough Riders

OTTAWA (CP) — End Gwen Cooper, who failed to make two other Canadian Football League teams, will play at least one game this week for Ottawa Rough Riders.

Riders announced Sunday that Cooper will play Tuesday night when the winless Riders take on Edmonton Eskimos in Edmonton.

Cooper formerly was in the training camps of Toronto Argonauts and Edmonton.

Riders also announced that they have dropped two Canadians from their lineup. Let go were linemen Ed Joyner, in his third year with the club, and defensive halfback John Kruspe, acquired last year from Montreal Alouettes in the Gene Gaines trade.

If Cooper impresses coach Jack Goff against Edmonton, he will stick with the club and Riders will be forced to drop another import.

FINN CUP

CASCAIS, Portugal (Reuters) — Brazil's Jorge Bruder won the Finn Gold Cup world yachting championship series Saturday, giving his country its first victory in this annual event.

He finished the five races with 23.7 points against the 24 of Henry Sprague, from Newport Beach, Calif., who ended in second place over-all, based on the four best performances in five races.

SOFTBALL CHAMPS

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP) — Vancouver Omega beat Victoria 13-12 in the finals Sunday to win the British Columbia junior women's softball tournament.

Sharon Peters pitched the final victory for Omega as well as a 6-4 win over New Westminster Saturday.

Victoria advanced to the finals with 16.5 wins over Prince George Saturday and New Westminster Sunday.

LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMP

TOKYO (AP) — Hiroshi Kobayashi of Japan retained his World Boxing Association junior lightweight title with a unanimous 15-round decision over Antonio Amaya of Panama Sunday night, although the champion fought from the ninth round on with blood streaming down his face.

There were no knockdowns. Kobayashi captured his title in December, 1967, from Yoshiaki Numata of Japan.

KARATE CHAMP

TORONTO (CP) — Steve Foster, 24, of Vancouver was crowned Canadian black belt champion in karate competition finals at the Canadian National Exhibition Sunday.

Foster was also selected for the Canadian national team in a separate competition.

BRITAIN LEADS

NEW YORK (AP) — Jaroslav Drobný and Gerry Oakley gave Britain a 2-0 lead against Canada Sunday in their Stevens Cup tennis matches for the international senior team title.

Drobný walloped Jean Marois of Quebec 6-1, 6-2, and Oakley stopped Jacques Giguere of Quebec 6-4, 6-1 in the matches that were moved indoors from Forest Hills because of rain.

Realletes Lose In Kamloops

KAMLOOPS, B.C. — The Kamloops JC's won the right to represent the Okanagan zone in the B.C. Senior B women's softball championship Sunday in Kamloops as they defeated the Kelowna Realletes in a best-of-three qualifying series Sunday.

Kamloops won the first game 12-4, lost the second 4-3, then captured the deciding game in convincing fashion as they bombed the Realletes 16-2.

The winning Kamloops club all but won the final game in the third inning as they broke loose for 11 runs, after trailing 2-1 at that point.

Myrtle Lawrence started and went the distance in all three games for Kelowna.

Carlings Edge By Royals

Two Kelowna Carling pitchers came within two outs of throwing a combined no-hitter Saturday as the Carlings edged the Royal Anne Royals 3-2 in an exhibition baseball game at Elka Stadium.

The game was the first half of a unique baseball-softball doubleheader between the two clubs — the softball portion of which will be played Wednesday at King's Stadium.

Len Tweed started for the Carlings, champions of the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League, and worked three hitless innings, then gave way to reliever Bob Schwab who stopped the Royals without a hit until Joe Fisher singled with one out in the seventh.

The Royals had scored both runs in the fourth without benefit of a hit as Schwab, making his first pitching effort of the year, was plagued with control problems, walking two and throwing a costly wild pitch.

Tweed and Schwab struck out 14 Royal batters between them. The Carlings meanwhile, playing with four Senior Babe Ruth players in their lineup, were almost as inept offensively as they managed just three hits off the Kelowna and District Senior B Softball champions.

The Carlings scored the winning run in the fifth inning with the help of three walks and a wild pitch.

OMBL Finals Again Tuesday

The fifth game of the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League final playoff series between the Kelowna Carlings and Kamloops Okonots will be played Tuesday night at Elka Stadium.

The best-of-seven affair is currently deadlocked at two games apiece — Kelowna winning the first two by scores of 4-3 and 12-2, Kamloops rebounding to win the last two 4-2 and 5-3.

Bob Bridges, probably the top pitcher in the province, will start for Kamloops, while Kelowna will counter with either sore-armed Mike Burdett or Len Tweed.

Game time is 8:30 p.m.

Jockey Eddie Belmonte came in third two consecutive times in the Belmont Stakes.

Student - Teach Relationship

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP) — Teacher and student walked up the 18th fairway together, their beige sweaters, yellow shirts and brown pants drenched in rain but with both their sights on $5,000.

The teacher, Al Balding of Toronto, held on Sunday to win the $25,000 Canadian Professional Golfers' Association tournament and the Labatt's Cup with a four-day total of 282.

The pupil, 29-year-old Gary Bowerman of Toronto, was a stroke off the leader after 72 holes over the Brantford Golf and Country Club's 6,506-yard layout.

Balding, 46, who plays out of the Chippewa club at Southampton, Ont., toured the par-72 course Sunday at even-par while Bowerman was one-under it. It was Balding's fourth PGA title, having won in 1955, 1956 and 1963.

In third place was veteran Bill Thompson of Copetown, Ont., who held the lead after the first 18 holes but "let even then he couldn't put together enough good rounds to finish high in the money."

RAIN CAUSED DELAY

Balding and Bowerman wrapped their arms about each other as they left the 18th green, shortly after play had resumed after a downpour drenched the course, forcing a postponement in play.

There were only two three-ones still on the course when the rains came and these finished after play continued a half-hour later.

Balding began tutoring Bowerman last year when the younger man decided to attend the PGA school in Florida.

"We knew he had to work on his putting and chipping," said Balding. The joint effort proved successful since Bowerman won his tour card in his first try. He's been reasonably successful on the PGA tour with $4,700 official earnings. His second-place finish in the CPGA was worth $3,500.

The title was of two-fold significance to Balding who also won the Canadian Alcan Golder of the year award.

He started Sunday's 18 holes two strokes behind Bill Wright Jr. but the Edmonton golfer soared to a 76, giving Balding the award.

The Alcan award goes to the Canadian golfer with the lowest gross scores in two of three provincial Open tournaments (Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia) and the CPGA.

Balding accumulated 704 strokes to 706 for Wright who wound up the CPGA with a 291. Bowerman was third in the Alcan event with 708 strokes, one ahead of Moe Norman of Gifford, Ont.

Balding will be Canada's representative at the Alcan Golder of the Year tournament in Dublin, Ireland, Sept. 17-20 with $55,000 going to the winner.

Wife Homenuk of Winnipeg was in at 286 with a 74 Sunday, two strokes behind Thompson, Bob Panasiuk of Windsor, Ont., who registered the only hole-in-one of the tournament, was alone at 287.

WAS WRONG HOLE

His ace, Saturday, on the 170-yard par-3 10th hole did not entitle him to the $5,000 put up for a hole-in-one on the 17th by a British sports equipment company.

In at 288 were Bill Wakeham of Victoria and Adrien Bigras of Rosemere, Que., while Wright and Norman shared the 291 total. Bob Rose of Copetown, who shared the lead after 18 holes with Thompson, finished at 293 with Dick Munn of Vancouver.

Last year's winner, Bob Cox Jr. of Richmond, B.C., had a disastrous two qualifying rounds of 75-77, finished with 10-72 for a 294 score he shared with Doug Bruton of Toronto, Bobby Breen of Malton, Ont., Ken Girard of Oakridge, Ont., Herb Holzscheller of Ashburn, Ont., and Wally Byers of Richmond Hill, Ont.

Next year's CPGA will be played at Saskatoon, a fifth day for the first time this year.

"We'll try to play Monday and if we can, we'll stay until Tuesday," a PGA official said. "We can go for two more days before we have to move into the $300,000 Down Jones Tournament in New Jersey. The weather forecast is good, but if we're unable to play Monday or Tuesday we'll just have to settle for 54 holes and 75 per cent of the prize money."

After shipping to a one-over-par 73 for a 54-hole total of 208 Saturday, Casper, one of the few persons wearing clothing, enjoyed the Sunday rest.

Casper had plenty of competition left as he awaited the final round. Deadlocked just one stroke back at 209 were Dan Sikes, Dave Hill, Jim Colbert and Tom Weiskopf. Then came Larry Ziegler and Lou Graham at 210.

Clemente Lashes Dodgers With 10-Hit Performance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roberto Clemente staggered Los Angeles Dodgers pitching Sunday with his second straight five-hit binge, leading the Pittsburgh Pirates to an 11-0 triumph, lifting his league-leading batting average to .353 and setting a modern record of 10 hits in two successive games.

The 36-year-old superstar, who had vaulted past Atlanta's Rico Carty in the batting race with a 5-for-7 spree against the Dodgers Saturday night, came right back to drill three singles, a double and his 14th home run in six trips to the plate as the Pirates unleashed a 23-hit barrage.

Clemente, however, can see room for self-improvement. "I feel I could hit even better," he said, "if I went out and just punched at the ball. But you can't do that. You have to look at the situation."

Clemente's burst and the four-hit pitching of Steve Blass helped the Pirates increase their East Division lead to three games over the second place New York Mets, who divided a doubleheader with Cincinnati Reds, runaway West Division pacesetters.

The Mets won the first game 5-4 with a three-run rally in the ninth, but pinch-hitter Jimmy Stewart's three-run homer off Tom Seaver gave the Reds a 7-3 nod in the nightcap.

Elsewhere, San Francisco Giants nipped the Chicago Cubs 4-3; St. Louis Cardinals outslugged San Diego Padres 8-7; and Philadelphia Phillies

ROBERTO CLEMENTE... five more trimmed Houston Astros 4-0. Atlanta Braves game at Montreal with the Expos was rained out.

Clemente scored four runs and drove in three to key the Pirates' romp. Bill Mazeroski stroked four hits; Manny Sanguillen, Fred Patek and Matty Alou rapped three apiece and Al Oliver slammed a two-run homer.

The Mets overcame Johnny Bench's 42nd homer in the first game, delayed by a rainstorm for two hours and 15 minutes at the start, as Tommie Agee ripped two homers and two singles and Joe Foy drew a bases-loaded walk from Wayne Granger to cap the three-run ninth. But Stewart tagged Seaver for his first 1970 homer after seventh-inning singles by Bernie Carbo and Tommy Helms, bringing the Reds from behind in the nightcap. Rookie Don Gullett retired all 12 batters he faced to pick up the victory and struck out six straight Mets, tying for a major league mark for relievers.

Pinch-hitter Frank Johnson's bases-loaded single with two out in the ninth erased a 3-2 Chicago lead and gave the Giants' Juan Marichal his fifth consecutive victory. An error by Ron Santo, who had clubbed his 20th homer for the Cubs, set the stage for Johnson's two-run poke.

Jose Cardenal delivered five runs with a homer, a double, a bases-loaded single in the ninth, leading St. Louis past the Padres in the see-saw struggle. The Cardinals scored six runs in the last two innings to win it.

Rick Wise and two Philadelphia relievers combined to blank Houston on eight hits and Deron Johnson drove in three runs with a homer and single.

Six More Records Demolished At B.C. Summer Swim Meet

VANCOUVER (CP)—Six more records fell Saturday during heats of the British Columbia summer swimming championships, a meet which saw 24 records broken Thursday and Friday.

Brent O'Connor of North Vancouver set a new record of 3:04.8 in the boys' 11 and 13 individual medley, slicing 1.4 seconds off the mark set by Tom Williamson of Kamloops last year.

In the girls' eight and under 55-metre freestyle, Dale Wallace of Kamloops cut 4-10ths of a second off the previous record of 41 seconds flat set by Jane Bibeck of Prince George in 1969.

Liz Guest of Mission in the Fraser Valley won the girls' 17-and-over 55-metre butterfly in record time of 34.2 seconds, more than a second faster than the 1967 mark of Jan McGregor of North Vancouver.

Bill Manahan of Burnaby, who smashed several records in the first two days of the meet, broke another Saturday with a time of 28.9 seconds in the boys' 17-and-over butterfly, 9-10ths of a second better than the one set by Bill Holmoy of Cultus Lake, near Chilliwack, last year.

Mark Phillips of Dawson Creek won the 55-metre backstroke for boys 11 and 12 with a new record of 35.9 seconds. Glen MacDonald of Mission set the old record of 37.6 in 1966.

Nanaimo swim club won the 22-metre medley relay for girls 15 and 16 in a record 2:31.0, two and a half seconds faster than the mark set by Crescent Beach club, near White Rock.

A brief ceremony Saturday afternoon at the meet, attended by 70 clubs, honored D. A. Brewster, chairman for the last 12 years of the B.C. Summer Swimming Association, which organizes the summer meet. He is retiring and will be replaced by Dr. C. V. Finnegan.

Beers Tops In High Jump

ABBOTSFORD, B.C. (CP)—Calgary runner Louis Groarke covered 3,000 metres in a time of 8:27.2 to set a Canadian juvenile record Sunday in the Canadian junior track and field championships.

Brian Maxwell of Toronto, was second and brother Leo Groarke came third, after pacing Louis through the race.

The southwestern Ontario relay team set a Canadian record in the junior women's 1,600-metre relay with a time of 3:59.2.

Saturday, John Beers of Merritt, B.C., set a Canadian juvenile record in the high jump with a leap of six feet 9 1/4 inches, 2 1/4 inches better than the old mark held by Bob Sanderson of Scarborough, Ont.

Patty Loverock of White Rock, B.C., smashed the junior women's Canadian record in the 100-metre dash, cutting 1-10th of a second from the old mark of 11.6 seconds, held jointly by three runners, Debbie Brill of Haney, B.C., won the jump Saturday, clearing the bar at five feet six inches. Her old foe Debbie Vankiekell of Toronto was second, Miss Brill holds the North American women's record of six feet 1 1/4 inch.

Francine Labelle of Quebec won the girls' javelin Saturday with a toss of 138 feet 11 inches.

Club Selection The Key At Junior Championship

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP)—over the 5,582-yard, par-68

Club selection is expected to play a major role in the Canadian junior golf interprovincial team matches and Canadian junior golf championships which opened at the Brightwood Golf and Country Club here today.

Rain fell overnight and officials feared the damp greens could make putting haphazard course. The wet grounds forced a two-hour delay in the start of the tournament, with the first golfers set to tee off at 11 a.m.

Thirty-six golfers, representing nine regional golf associations, begin play today in the two-day, 36-hole team championships. The individual competitions follow on Wednesday.

Reaching the green safely will have to be the major objective of the competitors and they are expected to be shooting for accuracy, and not distance from the tees.

Brightwood's fairways have trees bordering most holes, along with an ample supply of rough turf for shots that fall astray.

Most of the fairways are narrow and placement of the tee shot will be the big thing, says Brightwood club professional Harold (Bus) Ogden. But with the small greens, approach shots will have to be made with accuracy.

"It might be better for them to leave the driver in the bag on some of the par-four holes," Ogden says. Some fairways are long rolling hills, making yardage figures deceptive.

Alberta, with a total team handicap of four, is the favorite. Strong competition is expected from the British Columbia team, led by 18-year-old Doug Roxburgh of Vancouver.

Both British Columbia and Ontario have total team handicaps of eight. Nova Scotia has a total handicap of 11; Manitoba and New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island each have 12; Quebec, 14; Saskatchewan 15 and Newfoundland 40.

Roxburgh and Dan Talbot of Beloit, Que., are considered the favorites for the individual title in the field of 172 golfers—10 of whom are scratch handicappers.

Roxburgh and Talbot were among five junior golfers who turned in strong showings at the Canadian amateur championships at Ottawa.

Roxburgh, a scratch-handicapper, finished the 72-hole tournament three strokes under par.

Scratch handicappers Bob Barrett of Southampton, Ont., and Pat O'Donnell of Kingsville, Ont., and one-handicapper Stephen Ashby of Woodbridge, Ont., also turned in strong performances in Ottawa. In the 72-hole individual competition.

All competitors will play in the field two days. Only the top 60 and ties will compete Friday and Saturday in the final 36 holes of play.

Clean Race Clean Air

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Air quality rather than speed is what counts for the 42 vehicles that started for Pasadena, Calif., today in the 1970 cross-country clean air car race.

Two of the vehicles, powered by electricity, left the starting gate at 3 a.m. They were driven by crews from Stevens Institute in Hoboken, N.J. and Cornell University.

Race officials said the electric cars got an early start because they would have to recharge at several points along the way.

The other cars, leaving one at a time, started shortly before 6 a.m. Two other electric cars were among the first four to leave the gate at that time, and all had cleared by 8 a.m.

Danny Stang A Finalist

Four finalists from the Okanagan will compete in the Little Leo Punt, Pass and Kick contest to be held Aug. 27 at Empire Stadium prior to the Ottawa Roughriders-B.C. Lions game.

They are among 44 winners from all parts of the province including Vancouver West, Fraser Valley, Vancouver East, North Shore, Richmond-Delta, Vancouver Island South, Burnaby-New Westminster-Complan, Vancouver Island North, B.C. North and Interior Kamloops.

Okanagan finalists are: Matthew Kickbusch, 10, Penticton; Richard Sobon, 10, Vernon; Danny Stang, 12, Kelowna; Henry Bosscha, 13, Penticton.

Out of town finalists will be flown to Vancouver courtesy of Pacific Western Airlines.

Banff Summer Ballet Shows New Strength

By BETHEL STEELE

Thursday night the Community Theatre again played host to the Banff Festival Ballet with Kelowna Rotary as sponsor. It was a capacity audience and the evening was warm, so the building was hot. If we can't have air-conditioning how about some fans to move the air at intermissions.

But all that aside... Kelowna is a very special audience... it enjoyed itself Thursday night and well it should since this year's production was perhaps the best we have had from the Banff Summer School.

Old friends were back... Eva Von Gency and Bill Martin-Viscount and George Brough as musical director in the pit. Some of the same faces too in the orchestra with old Kelownian Peter Webster on viola, Cur own Kathy Duffy and Mary Sullivan did themselves proud in the company. Kathy is gaining assurance and finesse with the Royal Winnipeg and Mary is showing fine ability in comedy and the modern techniques of contemporary and jazz idioms.

Norbert Vesak who was here last year with his Western Canada Contemporary Dance Group is now with the Banff Summer Festival as director of a new Contemporary Dance department.

This year the students making up the touring company were perhaps more advanced technically than in the past, giving the production strength technically as well as interpretively. A dancer at 18 or 19 is more capable of acting as he dances than is the younger student who is still completely physically involved in technique.

The Banff Festival Ballet is important to our Canadian theatre culture because it is grass-roots ballet of a very high standard involving as it does our own Arnold Spohr a western Canada product of the then Winnipeg Ballet and now RWB artistic director; Betty Farrally co-founder of the Winnipeg with Dr. Gweneth Lloyd; Eva Von Gency who came to the Winnipeg from Hungary in the forties, now living in Montreal; and Bill Martin-Viscount a Winnipeg boy now teaching and dancing all over the world. Norbert Vesak a Vancouver boy is the new grass-roots addition. His training years have taken him all over North America.

The 23 students comprising the company are a conglomerate of both Canadians and Americans with one from England. They are auditioned from the larger enrolment of the Summer School proper.

Artistically this year's production was superior to those of the past and there was better contrast of ballets with something for everyone.

Martin-Viscount danced better this year particularly in the Swan Lake Black Swan Pas de Deux. One felt a strength of emotional involvement not always present other years. His new partner... Joyce Cuoco has a breathtaking cleanness of technique unusual in one so young... she is only 17. Her Odile though lacked the evil sorcery of the Black Swan of the story but that will come with maturity. Otherwise both dancers upheld the virtuosic tradition of the Pas de Deux.

Suite For Strings with choreography by Martin-Viscount to the Sixth Bach Suite was the one representative of the classical idiom as danced by the company. The work as a whole tended to be cloying with an unevenness of technical balance. The movements were over long. The ballet was superbly mounted though with beautiful costuming and the music was well played. This year's, by the way, was the best orchestra yet.

The weakest ballet from the standpoint of projection was the Pearl-White Moments with choreography by Norbert Vesak to an electronic score by Gaburo. This contemporary idiom demands fantastic control for the holding of the geometric patterns and their emotional meaning. The crucifixion scene was powerfully projected.

The Moment Of The Witch to contemporary tape Collage, choreographed and danced by Von Gency and Vesak with the company had sound trouble but in over-coming that difficulty Von Gency showed her old lyrical self as partnered by Vesak. The company danced with an exciting sense of complete implied meaning. It was thrilling and beautiful.

The Company gave a superb rendering of the Royal Winnipeg's Les Whoops De Doo... choreography by Brian MacDonald, music by Gillis. This is a delicious spoof on westerns and the ballerina. It is at one and the same a ho-down and a tour-de-force of male dance gymnastics. It is also beautifully funny and lovely. The Royal does it grandly. These kids did it so also. One could see the fine hand of Spohr and Farrally.

We Are Not One with choreography by Vesak to the spirituals as sung by Odette was the supreme moment of the evening. Vesak with students Eric Horenstein and Thomas McDevitt danced in the modern idiom to the passionate Negro music. This was spiritual and emotional involvement on the highest level with the mine beautifully clean and controlled. How anyone could be unmoved by Vesak's He's Got The Whole World In His Hands would have to be one of the imponderables of today's culture.

We understand Mr. Vesak was responsible for the lighting which was some of the best seen in Kelowna. As production manager Betty Farrally explained... we know what we want, but he knows how to get it.

Again a thank you to Rotary. I often wonder what "good" entertainment in Kelowna would do without the "boys."

Speculation Rises In Ottawa Of New Pegging For Dollar

By IRVING C. WHYNOT
Canadian Press Business Editor

There is growing speculation that the Canadian government plans to delay fixing a new parity for the dollar until at least the end of the year.

One reason, apparently, is that the government wants to wait until economic statistics for the half-year are available and assessed before making a decision.

The dollar was allowed to float—find its own value—June 1 and since then has been strong on international money markets.

It had been pegged at 92.5 cents U.S. In trading last week it rose to 98.46 cents U.S., high since it was allowed to find its own level and then weakened a bit.

Monetary sources said the Bank of Canada was trading in the dollar during the week in an effort to stabilize prices. The central bank never admits such a move, and there is even stricter secrecy about any views the government might have about what the rate should be.

KEEP MARKET GUESSING
The idea, of course, is to keep the market—and especially the international money speculators—guessing.

The state of Canada's trade will be a big factor influencing any government decision because it is the multitude of transactions every day between Canadians and foreigners converting one currency to another that determines the dollar's value.

Canadian exports increased 16 per cent to $8,440 million during the first six months of this year from $7,282 million in the corresponding period of 1969.

The export performance for the first six months was strong due at least in part to recovery from strike-damaged exports during the latter part of 1969.

Of more concern to the government will be the trade performance for the latter half of the year, when the full effects of the floating dollar will be felt.

Some observers feel that the sharp acceleration in trade surplus for the first half of the year is unlikely to be sustained through the second half, and the underlying current account could well slide into deficit.

Some fund officials argue that it would be embarrassing for the Canadian delegates to face such a debate while the dollar is still floating and they have been urging repegging before that meeting.

Attack On Poverty Will Cost Money

HALIFAX (CP) — An attack on poverty and pollution will require Canadians to reassess their traditional values and divert more money to government, Welfare Minister John Munro told a conference of scientists, engineers and technologists Sunday.

He said he does not believe the country is ready for an all-out effort because people place too much emphasis on material acquisitions.

He was speaking during a panel discussion at the opening of the three-day convention of the Association of the Scientific, Engineering and Technological Community of Canada.

"We have to take the responsibility totally in our society for this... certainly damaging preoccupation because it's now becoming excessive. It has become so excessive that I think we are not prepared—at this stage, at this time—to reassess our total values as people and come to the conclusion that we are prepared to do with less."

Mr. Munro said he was certain this soul searching would take place, but the critical question was whether it would happen in time. Canada was in danger of experiencing social problems as serious as those in the United States.

WILL THEY PAY?

It was questionable how much more money government could get from middle-income groups to tackle poverty and pollution. Corporations would have to accept the fact they would have to pay more.

Mr. Munro said there is a need for more personnel, more training facilities and greater readiness for qualified people to make themselves available to work with the poor. He was encouraged that this trend was developing.

Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the Science Council of Canada, suggested scientists, technicians and engineers in particular, could lead in the offensive against poverty.

He agreed with Mr. Munro's "defensive strategy" but noted that "the best way to pay for things is to increase productivity of our primary and secondary industry." Science had a lot to contribute that was being effectively used in Canada now. At the start of the two-hour, televised, initial session of the conference, Mr. Munro outlined the need for flexible national standards in the fight against air pollution and Ottawa's plans to formulate these regulations. Study would be followed quickly by the creation of quality standards.

WILL SET STANDARDS
These would be followed by emission standards, reflecting the most efficient base for control because the choice was "fairly large." The government could use regulatory standards by region, by industry, by type of pollutant, by polluting substance, or by sliding variations of a number of these.

The government was thinking of establishing three major bases of control—desirable, acceptable and permissible. The desirable category would represent an optimum state of air cleanliness; acceptable, the foundation of emission standards for existing industries and permissible would serve as a guide to action in short-term emergency situations.

SCITEC, formed last January partly as an advisor to the federal government on science policy and encompassing more than 60 national professional societies, is examining the role of Canada's scientific community in understanding and controlling the environment.

Russian Fleet Taking Hake

NANAIMO (CP)—A 21-veel Soviet fishing fleet operating off the west coast of Vancouver Island is taking large quantities of hake, but no salmon, a federal fisheries department survey crew reported Saturday.

G. R. Westheim, scientist in charge of the two-week survey aboard the fisheries department vessel G. B. Read, said:

"We fished exactly the same as the Russians. Our total catch was 92 per cent hake."

"We caught exactly two salmon, totalling 13 pounds."

The G. B. Read sailed from Vancouver to shadow the Soviet fleet at the order of fisheries Minister Jack Davis after complaints from British Columbia fishermen that the Soviets were taking quantities of herring and salmon.

The complaints arose after two B.C. fishboats were in collisions with Soviet trawlers—while anchored at night off the island.

Hake is used as a food in Russia and many other countries, although largely ignored by local fishermen. The Soviet fleet has been operating in a richly-stocked hake area off the south-west coast of the island.

The G. B. Read followed the fleet, using sonar and other electronic equipment to determine what equipment the Soviets were using and at what depths they were fishing, then duplicating their techniques.

Scientists participating in the survey stressed that their findings relate only to recent fishing, which has been for hake.

Approach To Drug Problems 'Being Made In Wrong Way'

TORONTO (CP) — Drug abuse among young people is a symptom of alienation in Western society, an international conference discussing the problem was told here.

But instead of attacking the problems which lead to alienation, officials are lashing out against the symptoms, Dr. Helen Nowlis, a psychologist from the University of Rochester in New York told 400 delegates to the three-day symposium.

She said many young people take drugs because they "want to escape" since they are not part of the forces which often shape their lives.

Drug abuse is not confined to long-haired hippie-type persons, she said. Pressure of society forces, ordinary university students to take drugs such as amphetamines to help them in their studies for examinations to achieve "square purposes."

She said the drug culture among youth indicates that "all is not well with our young people."

Dr. Nowlis said present laws in the United States do not act as a deterrent against illegal drugs, she said that in a rapidly-changing society the social values of society must be changed.

Dr. Joseph Mouloudeux said the youth drug culture is a manifestation of a rebellion against a society which wants to manipulate them to fit them into a definite fabric in life.

Dr. Mouloudeux said young people are confronted with a battery of intelligence and aptitude tests designed to channel them into various jobs and professions.

She said adults should treat

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

This Child Needs Heart Repair Job

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: This drawing is supposed to be a heart. The child is seven and was born with an open heart that never closed, and he has a heart murmur.

The doctor says surgery should be now, or later there may be a lot of trouble. Would appreciate your describing full details so we can understand more. I was not present when this drawing was explained, and haven't been able to find "patent ductus arteriosus" in the dictionary.—M.G.

Yuo copied the heart sketch very well indeed.

The ductus arteriosus is a duct or opening connecting the pulmonary artery with the aorta. The reason for this connection is that, before birth, a baby's heart beats but there is no purpose in pumping blood through the baby's lungs. There's no air there.

Instead, the mother's lungs provide oxygen in the blood for both her and the baby. The open duct allows easier flow of blood.

At birth, however, this duct closes (or is supposed to) and the baby then starts using his own lungs to get oxygen in the blood.

Sometimes, for reasons that aren't clear, this duct does not close but remains open. One meaning of the word "patent" is "open." So a patent ductus arteriosus is this duct which remains open instead of closing.

The result is that too much of the baby's blood is short-circuited; some goes through the lungs, but not all of it. Much of the blood circulates through the body without getting oxygen. This is one of the causes of "blue babies."

What needs to be done is to close off that opening nature should have closed but didn't.

it was discovered how to do this quite a few years ago. (The more complicated types of heart surgery have been developed since then.)

Closing this duct is, true enough, heart surgery. It requires a skilled surgical team to do it. But it is not risky like some of the more complicated heart operations, and results are quite uniformly good.

It is the usual practice not to perform the operation on a very small baby, unless it has to be done at once to save the baby's life. Better (if possible) to let the child grow bigger and stronger before the operation.

But you can't wait too long—because as long as that "short-circuit" is still open, the heart has to work harder than it could. The child's growth may be retarded, too, and he is often short of breath.

But all of these problems start being corrected virtually from the moment the surgeon closes that duct.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Two different people have told me we should not drink the water in our house that has been softened chemically. Could this affect our health, and how? Should we have special pipes hooked up for our drinking water?—H.E.R.

Softened water is perfectly all right to drink, with one exception: water softened with sodium (salt) would not be good for a person who is on a low-salt diet.

Some people have a special pipe for drinking water, but this is usually because it tastes better unsoftened, in their opinion.

Note to Mrs. J. W. H.: Your son must have gotten his information twisted. When one parent has type A blood and the other type B, the children can be of any type. Including O.

This deal occurred in the France-U.S. match in 1967. The bidding was hotly contested, through only a part score was at stake, and the French North-South pair, Stetten and Tintner, wound up at four diamonds doubled.

West (Root, playing with Roth) led the queen and another heart. Roth won with the king and returned the ace and another trump in order to reduce dummy's ruffing power.

Declarer won with the king and was faced with the proposition of attempting to ruff two hearts and two spades with only three trumps. Recognizing this as an impossible task, declarer led a spade at trick five and finessed the jack. Unfortunately, the finesse lost and he went down one.

Actually, South could have made the contract by taking a slightly different view. He should have read from both the bidding and the play that West's distribution was 5-2-1-5 and, after East had shown up with the A-K of hearts and ace of diamonds, that West was bound to have the ace of clubs.

Accordingly, declarer should have won the second diamond in dummy, ruffed a club, a heart, a club, a heart, and then ruffed another club to produce this position:

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
This day's influences should prove highly inspirational to those who are engaged in intellectual, artistic and cultural pursuits. All can have a satisfactory day, however, especially if they make it a point to be tactful. Don't let petty discussions assume major proportions.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that while, job-wise, you can take some upward strides between Oct. 10 and mid-January (also in late March and early May), these will be but stepping stones. Actually, you may not receive too much recognition for your efforts before early next June, when you will enter an excellent 3-month cycle for advancement. To achieve this, however, you may have to work a little harder than usual.

Shell Planning Non-Lead Gas

TORONTO (CP) — Shell Canada Ltd. announced last week it will begin marketing a non-lead gasoline in October.

A Shell statement said the new fuel will have an octane rating designed to meet needs of low-compression, 1971 cars and will sell for 2.5 cents more than regular-grade gasoline.

The statement said it is possible that older model cars with low-compression engines will be able to use the non-lead gasoline but these cars will probably require tuning adjustments.

"We could have left a small amount of lead in our new gasoline since 1971 cars will perform satisfactorily on such a fuel," the statement said. "However, since the automotive manufacturers say that a completely lead-free gasoline is essential to facilitate engine design changes that will reduce exhaust emissions, we decided to produce
